WORLD IS GOING MAD.
The world is going mad. Dr. Forbes Winslow, the famous London expert in criminal lunacy, propounds this startling theory in his volume of reminiscences, just published last Saturday by John Ouseley, Limited, entitled "Recollections of Forty Years." "By a simple arithmetical calculation," he writes, "it can be shown the exact year where there will be more insane persons in the world than sane."
"We are gradually approaching, with the decadence of youth, a near proximity to a nation of madmen.
By comparing the lunacy statistics of 1869 with those of 1909—four decades have intervened—the statistics being so taken, my reflections are sad, indeed. A terrible but real curse is in store, and an insane world is looked forward to by me with a certainty in the not far distant future."

"In 1869, out of a population of 22-223,209, there were 53,177 registered lunatics in England and Wales, there being one lunatic in every 418 of the total population; whereas in 1909 out of 35,756,615, the total number of registered lunatics was 128,787, making on an average one lunatic in every 278 of the population, so that in 40 years an enormous increase in lunacy is seen.
"Surely a dreadful future for nations still unborn to have to cope with.
These are facts, and sad to reflect upon.
They must be accepted. They cannot in any way be challenged." Dr. Winslow says he has "breathed the atmosphere of lunacy for a period extending over 60 years," and the conclusions he arrives at are pessimistic in the extreme.
He has no hesitation in declaring that the human race has degenerated, and is still progressing in a downward direction.
"The youths of the present age are much more insipid than formerly, less manly and insufficiently developed.
"Where are the manly, broad-shouldered youths who could be hurled 40 years ago? They are few and far between. They have been displaced by a narrow, limpy, badly formed weak young man, slouching along the street."

Ladies, you will always wear a smile if you wear the Red Cross Shoe. For sale only by J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King Street.

SEPARATED 48 YEARS.
There was a dramatic meeting of a husband and wife after a separation of 48 years at the Maclelland Revision Court, London on Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Goodwin claimed a vote, but the liberals objected on the ground that she was a married woman and her husband, Edwin Goodwin, was living in the town.
The woman told the revising barrister that her husband emigrated to America 48 years ago, and she had never seen him or heard anything about him since that time.
The barrister issued a subpoena for the man's attendance, but he ignored it, and had to be taken to the court in custody. He admitted that he was the woman's husband, and stated that he returned from America 20 years ago.
Considerable difficulty was experienced in persuading the woman to look at her husband, but eventually she did so, and repeated that she had not seen him for 48 years.
The revising barrister severely reprimanded Goodwin for refusing to attend the court and disallowed the woman's claim.

NURSE CONFESES.
Marie Messerschmidt, the nurse held in San Francisco with Dr. Grant in connection with the discovery of the body of Eva Swan, a young school teacher, confessed yesterday that she was present when Dr. Grant performed an operation that resulted in the girl's death.
As the result of the confession, Paul Parker, a former Leland Stanford athlete, who lived in the house where Miss Swan roomed, was taken into custody.
The confession states that "Robert Thompson, known as Dr. James Grant," "poked the girl's body in a trunk, following the operation resulting in death, first cutting off the legs at the ankles; that Grant discussed the burial of the body with the nurse, and spent two nights at the vacant house where the body was found beneath the cement flooring of the basement."

GIRL IS BORN WITH A FINGER SHOT OFF.
Within a few hours after 19 years old Beatrice Kastant, shot twice by a jealous suitor, had been taken to the German Hospital in Williamsburg Saturday, the doctor there performed a Caesarian operation upon her.
That operation will go down in medical history as something wholly unprecedented, for when a baby girl was brought into the world it was found that one of two bullets had shot off the right index finger of the infant.

Physicians at the hospital reported that mother and babe were getting along fairly well.
Although detectives warned the young woman at the hospital that she might die and urged her to reveal the name of her assailant, all she would say was:
"No, I'll not tell his name. If I get better I'll have my own revenge.
If I die it doesn't matter."

CHAMLER WIVES TO MEET.
That Mme. Cavaliere-Chanler will hasten to the United States to combat the suit entered by Mrs. Julia Chanler, asking that the prenuptial contract, by which Robert Winthrop Chanler gave his fortune to her, be annulled, was the burden of a cable received in New York from Paris Saturday.
It was said that Mme. Lina would not only contest the suit brought by wife No. 1, but will array herself in court against her husband as a result of his action in abrogating the power of attorney which he gave her to collect his fortune.

In the circles in which the Astor-Chamlers move it was reported yesterday that Mrs. Julia Chanler and her two daughters might return to this country temporarily, while the suit is in progress. If she does, the present and former wives will meet face to face in court to contest for the Chanler fortune.

The sockeye salmon season has closed in British Columbia and a large falling off is reported compared with former seasons. Consul General West at Vancouver, in a report, declares that the season's pack in the province was 549,000 cases, as against 840,441 in 1909.

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES.
Three persons were killed and two seriously injured at Gloucester, N. J., last night when an electric train on the West Jersey Railroad struck an automobile. The accident occurred at Essex street. There are no safety gates at the crossing and the buildings on both sides of the street prevented the occupants of the automobile from seeing the approaching electric train. The train struck the automobile in the center and hurled it against a telephone pole nearly 50 feet distant.
Backing his automobile across a country road in an attempt to reach a private driveway, Dr. Morris P. Stepp, a prominent Cleveland surgeon, drove the machine directly before a speeding electric freight car late yesterday near Cleveland, Ohio. The machine was hurled high into the air, and Dr.
Stepp, Mrs. Stepp, and their two small children were thrown out. Death came in a few moments to the woman and the little ones. Dr. Stepp was removed to a hospital, where it was found that he had received three fractured ribs and internal injuries.

Robert Reilly, a New York chauffeur, took three friends out for a ride in his employer's car early yesterday.
Death overtook the party at Hastings-on-Hudson, when the machine rolled down an embankment, crushing out Marion Morgan's life. The others—Reilly, a girl, and a man—escaped serious injury.

MEETS SWIFT RETRIBUTION.
Swift and unusual retribution overtook William Boston yesterday after he had shot and probably fatally wounded Miss Susan Losson, 29 years old, at Crickiet, a mining camp near Oskaloosa, Iowa. Pursued by friends of the wounded woman, who had killed Boston, the man fled through a woods and attempted to board a moving train.
Out of breath and made unsteady by fear, apparently, Boston fell under the wheels of the car and was ground to death.
Boston fired a load of shot into Miss Losson's body with an old shotgun, dropped the weapon and fled to the woods, closely followed by several men.
The pursuers ranged through the trees and finally came to a railroad track, where they halted, believing that they had lost their quarry. While they were debating what to do they saw Boston run from a clump of bushes and attempt to board a passing train.
The pursuers gathered up the pieces of Boston's body, and took them back to Crickiet.
